Historical Data:

The land upon which this house stands was bought by Zachariah Prickett from Nathaniel Capps and Thomas Brian in 1717. In his will dated 1727-8 Zachariah bequeathed the property to his son Jacob. There is mention in this will of tenements. Jacob in his will of 1775 gives to his son Job the plantation upon which the frame section stood. Job was the builder of the brick portion and in his will dated 1806 he divides the property into tracts. His son Stacy was allotted tract number one; on this tract stood the house of the survey. The will further stipulated that his wife Ann "have use and occupy to and for her dwelling house, built of brick where I now live with the collar under the same". Besides the will leaving the property to Stacy, there is a deed dated April 7, 1814 from his father and another from his brother John dated March 21, 1827. Stacy sold to Elton Braddock in 1856. There are three transfers recorded between that date and 1898 when Joseph S. Fleetwood, sheriff, sold to Daniel B. Wilkins.
